

Regarding Students' Comments on the TGSA's Survey

A few students have recently emailed the TGSA expressing concerns in regards to the publication of the comments section of the survey. Some students answered these comments personally and did not attempt to make their answers anonymous. Some students have also included personal information in these replies- for instance, in regards to the health plan.

Since there was no language for students to consent to the publication of these comments, we will not be sharing the individual comments in our newsletter.

With that stated, we will certainly publish the aggregate and quantitative data in the newsletter, and will offer short summaries of some of the concerns, comments, suggestions, etcetera that were presented in the comments section of the survey.

We just wanted to state that out of respect to these students, and the concerns that they have raised, we will not be publishing all of the comments in raw form. Our apologies for the confusion.

Best,
Your TGSA Team
